

TOM HITS TARGETS

Tom Duncan competing at the World Archery championships

Tom Duncan, who has been training with us for almost 3 years, has not only passed his Advanced Stage Chartered Accountancy exams, but has done so whilst preparing to represent Great Britain at the World Field Archery championships.

Our very own Robin Hood has been a competitive archer for over 7 years, achieving excellent results at County and Regional level, and was delighted to be selected to shoot for Great Britain in the World Championships which recently took place in Llwynypia, Wales.

The steep slopes of Llwynypia are usually sufficient to tax any archer, but this year's adverse weather conditions made his task even more difficult. The conditions were so treacherous that the event was modified to reduce the risk to the archers after two were injured (fortunately not severely!) during the first day's competition.

Despite the conditions, Tom qualified in 6th place, above the other GB archers in his division which earned him a place in the elimination rounds. Tom finished the event ranked 10th in the world.

“This is a remarkable achievement given that Tom would have had to devote a significant amount of his time preparing for his final Chartered exams”, said partner Kaushik Bathia.

Tom's hard work has certainly paid off as he has also passed all of the Advanced Stage exams at the first attempt with flying colours.

We congratulate Tom on his success both on and off the field!
